Crosby and Allen Planned "Buya" in Bucks Denied

NEWTOWN, Oct. 3.—Reports that Bing Crosby and Gracie Allen, well-known in radio and vaudeville circles, were planning to purchase a farm in Bucks County, have been denied.

Rumor had it that Crosby was attempting to buy "Indian Council Rock Farms," an estate of over 1,000 acres, near here; and that Gracie Allen, of the famous team of Burns and Allen, was considering purchase of a farm on Newtown-Buckingham road.

From the office of a real estate agency, here, come the denials, representatives stating they have not had inquiries from either of the two entertainers regarding farms in question. In a teletype message from the west coast today, Crosby was quoted as saying "I never heard of it (the farm)."

In order to keep in close contact with members of the organized reserve corps of the United States Army, T/Sgt. Howard B. Quinley has set up an office in the Court House, Doylestown.

Sgt. Quinley, who served with the U. S. Army in the Pacific area during World War II, has been in the Army seven years. He spent 52 months overseas. He will have charge of the Bucks county members of the organized reserves.

"There are approximately 430 Bucks county veterans who belong to the reserves," he said. His job is to keep in close contact with these men and answer any questions they may have regarding their inactive status.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The NLRB obtained the first temporary injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act to halt an AFL longshoremen's strike in Albany. The board said that the walkout was interfering with grain shipments abroad and the movement of fuel oil.

Chairman Luckman of the Citizens Food Committee conferred with Cabinet members on the save-food campaign to aid Europe. Secretary Snyder, on his return from Europe, urged all Americans to co-operate, a plea echoed by Lewis H. Brown, who made an economic survey of Germany for General Clark.

France will have exhausted her dollar exchange resources by November 1, Foreign Minister Bidault said. He felt encouraged about help after explaining his country's plight to President Truman.

Consumer resistance forced butter prices to below last year's levels, but other foods continued to mount. In Chicago, the head of the Board of Trade told a Congress group that prices could be brought down if farmers produced more, if people used less and if less grain was sent abroad.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Hans Eisler and his wife, alleged Communists, for deportation action.

Conference Opposes Tax On Admissions

The regular Fall meeting of the Bucks-Mont Scholastic Conference, coaches faculty athletic managers and band directors was held in the American Legion Home, Souderton, Wednesday evening. The group went on record as opposing the 20% federal tax on admissions to high school athletic events and activities. A conference protest will be sent to Congressmen and Senators, asking action to discontinue the tax. The group felt the tax was putting an unnecessary burden on school programs.

It was voted to sponsor a Bucks-Mont cross country meet and the same four teams, Lansdale, Springfield, Quakertown and Ambler will compete. It will be held at Springfield, November 13th, at 3:30 p. m. A trophy will be awarded the winning team.

THINKS JAPAN IS MAKING PROGRESS

Dr. Genevieve Bowen Tells of Recent Trip To the Conquered Country

ARE EAGER TO LEARN

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 3.—"I had a great feeling of hopefulness. I liked the way the Japanese educators met us more than half-way and worked with us," said Dr. Genevieve Bowen, supervisor of elementary education in Bucks county, speaking at the Bucks County Institute here. Dr. Bowen asserted that the Japanese people are ready for a new faith because we are helping them see the values and successes in the democratic way of life.

Dr. Bowen who was in Japan for several months, said: "Many Japanese educators knew more about John Dewey and had read him better than I have, but they never had a chance to put his philosophy of education into their school system."

Dr. Bowen, who took 80 camera pictures while on her educational trip to Japan and Korea, showed 50 excellent shots. "The school buildings in Japan, as a rule, are ugly. I saw nothing smaller than a seven-room school in Japan. In one of the most rural sections I visited a 23-teaching school with children attending from six villages."

Declaring that the children are everything in Japan, Dr. Bowen related that many times she saw parents take a piece of candy and put it into their pockets, knowing the children would get it finally.

"The children are the best taken care of in Japan. They look so much alike because of their little black, shiny heads. There are no curly heads in Japan."

"The baby is the king of the family so long as he is the baby. He loses that adoration when another baby comes along. Babies are fussed over and over-indulged. When they go to school the little tots are put into western clothes."

TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS QUERY SCHOOL BOARD

P. T. A. Members Inquire About Per Capita Taxes And Their Collection

OKAY APPOINTMENT

Two residents of Bristol township attended the meeting of Bristol township board of school directors last evening, for the purpose of asking certain questions of the members. The one questioner was a member of East Bristol Township Parent-Teacher Association, and the other the proprietress of a store in the vicinity of the township junior high school.

James H. Robinson, presiding officer, allotted time to each. Robert Drake, the representative of the P. T. A. located at Edgely, asked two questions. In answer to the first "Why don't certain individuals receive bills for per capita tax?" he was informed as follows: "This is a problem to take up with the township assessor, as it is his responsibility directly to see that these persons are placed on the duplicate which is presented to the tax collector for collection." The second question asked by Mr. Drake was: "Why aren't the per capita tax collections larger?" The board spokesman answered this query in the following manner: "Every effort is being put forth to collect accounts, and a marked improvement has been noted during the past few years due to the fact wages may be attached for payment of taxes; also pressure is being placed on the tax collector by his bonding company to press for collection of taxes. This is also aiding in a better job."

A Mrs. Douglass, proprietress of a store adjoining property of the Bristol township junior high school, asked directors why pupils at that school are not permitted to leave the school grounds during the noon hour to make purchases. The directors explained that the pupils have only 25 minutes for lunch period, and that 15 minutes of this must be spent partaking of lunches in the home-rooms, the other 10 minutes being for relaxation. On clear days, it was explained, the pupils are permitted to spend this 10 minute period on the school grounds. The questioner was further informed that this is a rule of the school, as wandering from the grounds presents a problem which the faculty has spent years in trying to overcome.

Reports of secretary Clarence H. Young and treasurer Albert B. Stiles were accepted.

The board confirmed the appointment of Miss Rosemary Johnson as teacher of grade one in the community building at Bristol Terrace II.

LOWER DIST LEADING IN SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Has $1,588 in Contributions for Annual Drive for Council Funds

ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH

Announcing that Lower Bucks District leads Bucks County with $1,588 in contributions to the annual drive campaign of the Boy Scout Council, Sheridan B. Metz today expressed his appreciation of local support thus far in the campaign.

"We have a fine group of workers and a great deal of enthusiasm here," he said. He added that "the space devoted to the campaign by the Bristol Courier has greatly aided workers efforts."

With one week remaining in the annual effort for Scout Council funds, reports have not been received from all of the six wards of Bristol. Certain wards, however, are already reporting larger totals than were reported at the finish last year.

Lenape District, in which Doylestown is located, is running second to Lower Bucks in amount contributed.

"6200 Friends of Scouting" in Bucks County is the campaign slogan with $30,000 the goal in dollars.

She Was Only A Dummy!

(By "The Stroller")

I was standing on Mill street yesterday, minding my own business, when I noticed a considerable commotion on the other side of the street. Not so much a commotion, but the raising of voices from the normal conversational level—female voices!

Now if you are in the habit of standing on Mill street daily, you will easily understand why voices raised over the normal conversational level would attract one's attention. Especially so when female voices. So I glanced over to where the rumormongers were being made and saw a mad scurry of feet, lowered heads, and pink cheeks.

Quite perplexed I was about to investigate when a young woman of my acquaintance said in a hushed voice: "Did you see the goings-on in that store window? That man and woman, it's disgraceful, shocking! Can't you do something about it?"

Not knowing what to say I said "yes" anyhow. Following the direction of her pointed finger I took off like Sir Galahad. I would do something about this affair.

I returned shortly to the acquaintance who had requested my assistance. "Well, did you do something about it?" she asked. "Yes, I did. I talked to the man; the woman didn't have much to say. In fact she didn't say a word. You see, she's only a store-window dummy."

Advised of Findings By Recent Inspection

A number of public eating and drinking places in Bristol have been advised by the Bristol Health Board of the findings by a recent state inspection of their premises.

The state inspector did not visit every place but made approximately 30 inspections. A detailed report of each has been filed with the Bristol Health Board and a copy forwarded to the proprietor of the establishments.

Where there are complaints it is expected that they will be remedied before the inspection of the Bristol health officer preparatory to the issuing of a license for the year beginning November 23rd.

Physicians here reported two cases of dog bites during the month. No cases of reportable disease were reported. There are no quarantines in the borough at present.

MUCH BUILDING UNDER WAY IN THIS AREA

Stores, Apartments, Residences, Garages and Church Included

SOME ABOUT FINISHED

Despite the acute shortages of various kinds of building material high cost of building and scarcity of mechanics and labor needed in the building trades scattered through the Bristol area, a number of building projects are under way.

A large building almost completed opposite the Bristol post office is the new garage and display room of Bristol Ford Company. It measures 145 by 65 feet, being constructed by the McClain Construction Co. and roofed by the Hendricks Brothers. When the building is completed late this month or early November, it will be a complete Ford Service unit.

On Mill street the building next to Diamond Sporting Goods store, which has been an eyesore for years, is being completely remodeled by Diamond.

Just a few doors away another building is reaching completion for the Bristol Home Furnishing Company. It measures 84x65 feet and is being constructed by Ned Ponto, Bristol. When completed, in about a month, it will feature the most modern conveniences obtainable for the customers, such as lighting and electrical appliances.

Between these two construction jobs on Mill street is another one that will be finished early next year. It will be the new headquarters for General Electric, owned and operated by Thomas Proff & Sons. It measures 52x170 feet.

GIVES "EXAMINATION FOR A PEDAGOGUE"

Dr. Francis Harvey Green Addresses Teachers At One-Day Institute

350 HEAR LECTURER

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 3.—Dr. Francis Harvey Green, headmaster emeritus of the Pennington School for Boys, of New Jersey, speaking at a one-day institute of the grade teachers of Bucks County, here, said: "I am going to give you ten questions which will serve as an examination for a pedagogue and I want you to mark yourselves either before saying your prayers this evening, or maybe better afterwards." He declared that it is a teacher's duty to give the boys and girls freedom from darkness and moral degradation.

Speaking to more than 350 school teachers, primary and junior high school instructors from all sections of the county, the distinguished retired teacher, who explained he believed no circumstances are they to pay any one for assisting them in the return of these bodies, nor in preparing the forms sent to them by the War Department. There is absolutely no charge for any of this service, and if they are approached by anyone who makes a request for a fee to cover expenses, it is requested that the police be called and the party apprehended. This racket has already been worked in various parts of the country and the Legion, as well as the Government, is determined to break it up. The only expense the family may be called upon to incur are necessary interment expenses, for which the Government will reimburse up to $50, on application to the Quartermaster General," Chaplin further stated.

The officers and members of the Bracken Post will be glad to answer any questions they can regarding this service and will assist in preparing the forms, but the families must make the decision themselves, as to the disposition of the remains. No one is permitted to make the decision but the person designated by the War Department. However, the Legion will try to explain the four plans to anyone so desiring.

CENTER OF POPULATION

An estimate by the Bureau of the Census that the population of the United States was 143,311,000 as of April 1, 1947, shows an increase of 10,392,000, or approximately eight per cent, since 1940.

The high birth rate in recent years produced an increase of 36 per cent in the population under five years of age. Despite this unprecedented increase in the baby crop, the median age of the entire population rose one year from 29 to 30.

Americans still are heeding the advice of Horace Greeley, apparently. The West shows a population increase of 24 per cent, greatest of any region. The South's gain was slightly less than three per cent. Northeastern states had an estimated increase of nine per cent, and the increase in North Central states amounted to six per cent.

The center of population has been in Indiana almost 60 years, moving from 20 miles east of Columbus in 1890 to two miles southeast of Carlisle in 1940. The question now is whether the western gain will be sufficient by 1950 to take the center of population
across the Illinois line.

POTLIKKER, THEY MEAN

One way to beat the high cost of living, says the Department of Agriculture, is to consume the juice that remains in the pot after greens are cooked. It is "rich and inexpensive source of minerals and vitamins. The old Southern custom of serving pot liquor as well as the greens insures against loss of soluble nutrients."

That's a tip, even if the Yankee who wrote it didn't know how to spell potliker. Take turnip greens, for preference. Simmer them gently in enamel ware with a plump cut of pork taken low down on the hog. Serve the potliker steaming, with plenty of un-sweetened pone to dunk. If it doesn't taste better than you expect, perhaps you've been eating high on the hog too long.

Huey Long, who had dangerous political ideas, was a sound man on potliker. He sang its praises everywhere, and introduced it to some of his northern colleagues. It is good to see that the Department of Agriculture is catching up with him.

Gold formerly was thought to have an unvarying standard of value. Now everything else has.
It goes high and stays high.

Preliminary talks were reported from London looking to the resumption of Anglo-Soviet trade negotiations. Britain's Conservative party, in a radical shift, adopted a liberal industrial charter that recognized the need for a certain amount of nationalization.

Sudden raids in China were said to have broken an incipient opposition movement within the Government.

Thinks Japan Is Making Progress

"Most of the schools in Japan are unheated and many of the little to-dies are barefoot or wear little wooden clogs. Many times I had woolen stockings over my nylons and was still chilly, and I wondered how those little feet could stand the cold."

Japanese children have learned three greetings, "Hello," "Goodbye," and "Okay," from American tourists.
The GIs are now the tourists in Japan — and they scream them whether the occasion is suitable or not," Dr. Bowen said.

Pointing out that for the Americans, under General Douglas Mac-Arthur, their biggest job is to change the basic educational philosophy of nationalism, militarism and dictatorship, which was put into the schools by the Japanese leaders, Dr. Bowen said: "We have made the biggest change in their social studies program."

"The teachers and schools are trying to follow the new tenets of the Japanese constitution and are studying problems of transportation, rice rationing, local government, production of soybeans and rice."

"I hope we won't pull out of Japan too soon in our effort to save money and cut taxes, because I think in the end we will be sorry if we do and it will cost more than if we stay and do a good job," Dr.
Bowen said.

An excellent technicolor film,
"Conservation," which deals with soil, mineral and wild life conservation in this State and was produced by Pennsylvania State College, was shown by T. E. Reynolds, of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The film shows how teachers may

Pupils from various schools staged exhibits in four of the class-

Outstanding exhibits were those of painted Pennsylvania Dutch trays, plates and pie tins; Southampton school with a pottery exhibit, showing the process from a lump of clay to a finished product; Clay Ridge school, which had models of a library, fire house, store and barn theatre; Lacey Park, which featured a puppet scene, South Sea house project, and Hilltown which also displayed pottery.

Dr. Bowen, who brought back

Gives "Examination For A Pedagogue"

gan teaching 47 years ago, was given a rousing ovation as he entered the auditorium in the local high school. Many of the teachers once studied English under Dr. Green at West Chester State Teachers College.

Dr. Green, who delighted the men and women with his superb raconteur style, biting humor and philosophical wisdom, submitted the following ten questions:

First, "Am I on the job?" Second, "Do I appreciate my chance?" Third, "Do I get to know the children as I should?" Fourth, "Do I get into their lives as I should?" Fifth, "Am I unselfish in relation to them?" Sixth, "Do I keep them busy?" Seventh, "Do I keep them happy?" Eighth, "Do I set them a good example?" Ninth, "Am I cooperative?" Tenth, "Will I do better in the future?"

Dr. Green, while touching on the various self-examining questions told the teachers their job is "The child." If you don't like children get out of teaching, raise chickens or engage in some other business.

Pointing out that Shakespeare didn't put a child into any of his plays, of any prominence, Dr. Green said "Children did not figure in the literature of the 17th and 18th centuries. It remained for the great novelist, Charles Dickens, to create children in the great literature of the 19th century. With the advent of Longfellow, Riley, Eugene Field and others, children became permanent in the literary life of America." How badly America needs happier homes, happier school rooms!

Warning that teachers will never get to know children if they get old or cold, Dr. Green said: "Ask yourself: Am I getting old? Am I getting cold?"

Taking a crack at the type teacher who sends a child out of a class room and to the principal's office, Dr. Green suggested settling the problem, disciplinary, right then and there. "You are merely giving that boy and girl just what they wanted, a chance to leave the room, take a break or small recess which always seemed like bad discipline to me."

"Make workers, not loungers out of your kids. Put fire into your work or put your work into the fire! Keep the mental machinery well-oiled with humor. Gloom isn't Godliness nor piety pessimism," Dr. Green said.

Quoting from Oliver Goldsmith's "The Deserted Village," Dr. Green said a good teacher is described as "He lured to brighter worlds and led the way."

Asserting that the biggest room in the world is the room for improvement because the door opens to you and me, Dr. Green said: "Will I do better in the future? If I don't what's the use of our getting together, talking together or trying to solve our problems together?"

Dr. Green, who is re-reading Mark Twain, explained he will speak at the Astor Hotel in New York City October 20 before the Mark Twain Society. "My, what a lot of joy that man brought to this world," he said.

Eisenhower Approves Gen'l Lee's Exoneration

By George Moise

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Army Chief of Staff, today approved the Inspector General's report exonerating Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee of "dictatorship" accusations and commended Lee for superior performance of duty in the Mediterranean theater.

Eisenhower endorsed the findings of Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, Army Inspector General, who asserted that charges against Lee made in a series of newspaper articles were based on "half-facts, rumors and untruths."

Wyche assailed the author of the articles, Robert Ruark, Scripps-Howard columnist.

He asserted that the columnist accepted lies and rumors as facts and wove them into articles implying that Lee was responsible for brutal and degrading treatment of enlisted men and widespread abuses of the privileges of rank.

Eisenhower, in forwarding Wyche's report to Secretary of the Army Royall, declared:

"In a position of grave responsibility and one in which the delicate and critical interests of the United States were involved day by day, Gen. Lee has performed a service to his country which has won the approbation of his associates, both civilian and military."

two stepsons, Robert S. Burgess, East Aurora, N. Y., and John A. Burgess, Elmira, N. Y., and five grandchildren.

George MacReynolds, well-known librarian of the Bucks County Historical Society, and naturalist, had an unusual and pleasant experience while taking a walk on Sunday last.

Going down Peble Hill, on the road that leads to what is known as "Flat Iron Hill," he heard something traveling behind him. Looking back he saw a small buck deer quite close to him. As the animal appeared to be unafraid, MacReynolds offered it a bit of candy, but the buck was satisfied with only half of it, and continued to walk alongside the donor of the fudge.

To give the animal a chance to go on its way, MacReynolds proceeded to "Flat Iron Hill," then turned around and retraced his steps toward Doylestown. To his astonishment, he found that the deer had also turned and was again following him.

At least a dozen automobilists stopped to view the uncommon sight. The deer, fearful—and rightly so—of automobiles, jumped the fences or hedges on the roadside, but still continued to travel nearby, and in the same direction that MacReynolds was going. One automobilist got out of his car to make a snapshot. The deer obligingly mounted a small elevation, having a good background, enabling the photographer to get a fine photo.

MacReynolds and the deer resumed their walk. To get rid of the deer, MacReynolds turned in at the Todd residence on Peble Hill and there the buck left him, after following for two miles.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Almost certain... victory is almost a certainty for the Edgely Rod & Gun Club in the 4-way interclub blue cock matches as a result of scores made last Sunday by shooters of this club when they added another 34 points to make a total of an 84-point lead over their closest competitors, the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association.

The match Sunday, shot over the Edgely trap, was the third in a series of four. The first was run off over the Bristol traps, the second was held at the Tru-Sport trap grounds in Southampton, and the final shoot will be held Sunday, October 12, over the Newtown Rod & Gun Club traps in Newtown.

Highlight of the match Sunday was a perfect score of 50, turned in by Dr. William S. Brodick for the Edgely Club. This is the first perfect score to be made in the three shoots already held. By virtue of his score Sunday, Dr. Brodick remains in the lead for high single honors. J. McCue, shooting for Newtown, smashed 49 out of 50 targets to take second place honors at Edgely.

Scores made in the third match included: BRISTOL—J. S. Lynn, 39; J. Katz, 38; Wayne Warner, 44; Glen Cobleigh, 46; L. Robinson, 39; W. Posler, 45; L. Amadio, 42; and R. Robinson, 41. EDGELY—M. Heckler, 47; Wm. Warner, 46; J. King, Sr., 47; W. Quinn, 45; J. Kish, 44; C. Hiltie, 45; Dr. Wm. Brodick, 50; and M. Locke, 44.

NEWTOWN—J. Thompson, 38; T. Boccardo, 44; R. Dafer, 43; J. McCue, 49; W. Balderston, 40; A. Walton, 39; R. Gordon, 43; and S. Zogorski, 36. TRU-SPORT—J. McClain, 44; F. Messenger, 29; G. Gamils, 30; C. Wandell, 39; P. McClain, 24; F. Witte, 29; R. Witte, 32; and T. Colkett, 24.

3000 bass... this number of largemouth bass, all fingerling, were recently stocked in Silver Lake by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission. The fish came from the Commission's Pleasant Mount hatchery in Wayne County.

You'll like this information... even if you are one of those lazy sportsmen who didn't see fit to lend a hand in raising pheasants, or even of belonging to one of the local sportsmen's organizations (and there are at least six clubs in this immediate area) you will be happy to learn that in the last two weeks a total of 493 full grown pheasants have been released on open, unposted hunting grounds in our vicinity.

That figure represents more pheasants than has been released in this area in the last half dozen years!

On Monday of this week the birds raised by the Edgely and Bristol clubs were released, along with 8 birds received from the first lot of pheasants from the County Federation project and 25 birds received from the State, to make a total of 216 pheasants. Of this total 72 were cock birds and the remainder hens. Several days ago the Middletown and Ye Olde Hunting and Fishing Club released a total of 188 birds in nearby cover. These two clubs are also holding 47 cocks for liberation later on in the season. In addition to these two lots of birds Ye Olde Hunting and Fishing Club of Edgely bought and released 75 cock birds just a few days ago. And on Tuesday of this week another 14 birds were released by the Edgely and Bristol Clubs from the second lot of birds raised by the County Federation. Although additional figures are not available for the number of birds received by other clubs in this area it was probably sufficient to make a grand total of more than 500 pheasants released!

Original releasing dates for the Edgely and Bristol project birds were October 5 for the cocks and November 30 for the hens, but the flocks became cannibalistic on Sunday and the birds had to be immediately put out to prevent wholesale slaughter.

Two Bristol winners... Ollie Hobbs and George Eiling, both casting under the colors of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association, took high honors in the 25th annual Dover Fishing Club casting tournament, held recently in Cedar Grove, Fairmount Park, Philadelphia.

Hobbs won the main event of the afternoon when he scored a 99 out of a possible 100 in the 5000 yd accuracy contest. This was a registered event of the National Association of Amateur Casting Clubs. Competitors hailed from all sections of the country. In the 5000 yd accuracy event second place honors went to Eiling.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors... children sharing in the chores... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends... the companionship of man and wife, untroubled by distractions of the city... the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit, the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.
